Policy Regarding Enforcement of the Condominium Declaration, Rules and Regulations, and the Levying of Fines (from approved Governance Policies)

Association's Legal Duty. The Association acknowledges that it has a duty to its membership to enforce its Condominium Declaration, the Association's Bylaws, Responsible Governance Policies, and Rules and Regulations, if any, all as the same may be amended or restated from time to time. It is the policy of the Association to enforce, as written, any applicable provision of the Association's Condominium Declaration, Bylaws, Responsible Governance Policies, and Rules and Regulations, if any.

Investigation of Alleged Violations. If a violation of the Association's Condominium Declaration, Rules and Regulations, Bylaws, or Responsible Governance Policies occurs, or a violation is alleged to have occurred, and such potential violation is reported to the Board of Managers ("Board"), the Board shall investigate the allegations to make a determination whether such violation or threatened violation has in fact occurred. In such investigation and subsequent enforcement, if undertaken, the Board shall act in good faith and shall not act arbitrarily or capriciously.

Enforcement – Board Discretion. The enforcement of the provisions of the Association's Condominium Declaration, Rules and Regulations, Bylaws, and Responsible Governance Policies shall be subject to the discretion of the Board as to the timing, manner, and method of pursuing such enforcement, but in no event shall the Association's fact-finding process to determine whether a violation has occurred take longer than 60 days from the date the Association first had notice of the alleged violation. Provided that its actions are reasonable, the Board may decline enforcement of questionable violations, enforce covenants by filing suit for injunctive relief or other remedies, or levy fines for violations after notice and an opportunity to be heard is given to the alleged violator. In exercising such discretion, the Board shall consider both the specific covenant or rule violation alleged, and the overall interests of the community and Association.

Hearing Before Impartial Decision-Maker(s). If a unit owner or a unit owner's tenant, guest or invitee is determined to have violated the provisions of the Association's Condominium Declaration, Rules and Regulations, Bylaws, or Responsible Governance Policies, after notice and hearing to the alleged violating owner in front of an impartial decision-maker, the Association may impose a fine for the violation in the amounts stated in the Association's Rules and Regulations, or other governing document, but in no event shall any violation incur a fine of more than $500. "Impartial decision-maker" means a person or group of persons who have the authority to make decisions regarding the enforcement of the Association's Condominium Declaration, Rules and Regulations, Bylaws, and Responsible Governance Policies and do not have any direct personal or financial interest in the outcome. A decision-maker shall not be deemed to have a direct personal or financial interest in the outcome if the decision-maker will not, as a result of the outcome, receive any greater benefit or detriment than will the general membership of the Association.

Owner Not Responsible for Alleged Violation. If, as a result of the fact-finding process described in this Policy, it is determined that the unit owner should not be held responsible for the alleged violation, the Association shall not allocate to the unit owner's account any of the Association's costs or attorney's fees incurred in asserting or hearing the claim. Notwithstanding any provision in the Condominium Declaration, Bylaws, Rules and Regulations, or these Responsible Governance Policies to the contrary, a unit owner shall not be deemed to have consented to pay such costs or fees.

Violating Owner Responsible for Association Attorney Fees and Costs. It is the intent of the Board that once a violation of the provisions of the Association's Condominium Declaration, Rules and Regulations, Bylaws, or Responsible Governance Policies has been determined by the Board to have occurred, any expenses, costs, and attorney's fees incurred by the Association as a result of such violation shall be assessed against the violating owner in the same manner as an assessment.

Violations that Threaten Public Safety or Health. With respect to any violation of Colorado law or the Association's Condominium Declaration, Rules and Regulations, Bylaws, or Responsible Governance Policies that the Association reasonably determines threatens the public safety or health, the following procedures shall apply:

The Association shall provide the unit owner with written notice via certified mail, return-receipt requested, in English and in any other language that the unit owner has indicated a preference for correspondence and notices pursuant to Section 8 of the Association's Collection Policy above, of the nature of the violation, the action or actions required to cure the violation, and that the unit owner has seventy-two (72) hours to cure the violation, or the Association may fine the unit owner.

If, after an inspection of the condominium unit in which a violation is alleged to have occurred, the Association determines that the unit owner has not cured the violation within seventy-two (72) hours after receiving notice of the alleged violation, the Association may impose a fine or fines on the unit owner, as determined by the Board, but no fine shall be instituted more than every other day for continuing violations, in the amounts stated in the Association's Rules and Regulations or other governing documents and the Association may take legal action against the unit owner for the violation(s); except that, in accordance with C.R.S. § 38-33.3-209.5(8)(c)(I), the Association may not pursue foreclosure against the owner's condominium unit solely based on fines owed. The total amount of fines imposed for any violation may not exceed $500.00, even if said violation is continuing in nature.

Violations that Do Not Threaten Public Safety or Health. If the Association reasonably determines that a unit owner committed a violation of Colorado law or of the Association's Condominium Declaration, Rules and Regulations, Bylaws, or Responsible Governance Policies that does not threaten public safety or health, the Association shall:

Provide the unit owner with written notice of the violation via certified mail, return-receipt requested, in English and in any other language that the unit owner has indicated a preference for correspondence and notices pursuant to Section 8 of the Association's Collection Policy above, and inform the unit owner that he/she has thirty (30) days to cure the violation or the Association, after conducting an inspection and determining that the unit owner has not cured the violation, may fine the unit owner; however, the total amount of fines imposed for any violation may not exceed five hundred dollars ($500), even if said violation is continuing in nature.

Subject to subsections 8.c and 8.d hereof below, a unit owner shall have two (2) consecutive thirty (30) day periods to cure a violation before the Association may take legal action against the unit owner for the violation. In accordance with C.R.S. 38-33.3-209.5(8)(c)(I), the Association may not pursue foreclosure against the owner's condominium unit solely based on fines owed.

If the unit owner cures the violation within the period to cure afforded the unit owner, the unit owner may notify the Association of the cure and, if the unit owner sends visual evidence with the notice that the violation has been cured, the violation is deemed cured on the date that the unit owner sends the notice. If the unit owner's notice does not include visual evidence that the violation has been cured, the Association shall make an inspection as soon as practicable to determine if the violation was cured.

If the Association does not receive notice from the unit owner that the violation was cured, the Association shall inspect the condominium unit in which the violation was alleged to have occurred within seven (7) days after the expiration of the first thirty (30) day cure period to determine if the violation was cured. If, after the inspection, and whether or not the Association received notice from the unit owner that the violation was cured, the Association determines that the violation was not cured, then:

A second thirty (30) day period to cure commences if only one thirty (30) day period to cure has elapsed; or

The Association may take legal action against the unit owner if two (2) thirty (30) day periods to cure have elapsed.

Violation Cured by Unit Owner. Once a unit owner cures a violation, the Association shall notify the unit owner, in English and in any other language that the unit owner has indicated a preference for correspondence and notices pursuant to Section 8 of the Association's Collection Policy above, of the following:

The unit owner will not be fined further for the violation; and
The amount of any outstanding fine balance, including attorney's fees and other costs, that the unit owner still owes to the Association.

Continuing Violations. For violations that are continuing in nature, the Association may levy a fine or fines as stated in the Association's Rules and Regulations or other governing document(s), but the cap on said fines for any one continuing violation shall be limited to five hundred dollars ($500), and a fine may not be levied more often than every other day.

Notice of Fines. On a monthly basis by first-class mail and, if the Association has the unit owner's email address, by email, the Association shall send to each unit owner who has any outstanding balance owed to the Association an itemized list of all assessments, fines, fees, interest, and other charges that the unit owner owes to the Association. The Association shall send the itemized list to the unit owner in English and in any other language for which the unit owner has indicated a preference for correspondence and notices pursuant to Section 8 of the Association's Collection Policy and to any designated contact for the unit owner.
